Why my Suits and Overcoats—made to your measure—at $15 and $18 are as good as any $25 or or $30 garments that can be bought in the tri-cities.

Is No Loss From Dead Stock

I never have a cent invested in "Dead Stock." My woollens are staple, and worth the price I pay any day in the year. At the end of a season I never have to pack away several thousand dollars worth of merchandise, to sell probably next year at a big loss.

HARTZMANN GIVES DETAILS OF CASE

Young Man of Moline Relates Proceedings of Federal Charges Against Him.

RECEIVES THE LIGHTEST FINE

Judge Humphreys Assesses Minimum Under Such a Violation of the Postal Laws.

Proceedings of the trial at Peoria of Harold Hartzmann, the young man of Moline recently arrested by federal authorities for alleged misuse of the mails in violation of the United States postal laws, were related as follows today by the accused:

While acknowledging that he was guilty of the charge placed against him, Hartzmann made the plea that the offense was committed unintentionally and without knowledge of the violation of the law. It seems that there were really two charges placed against Hartzmann: one of using the mails to dispose of raffle tickets or coupons on a gold watch, and another of operating an alleged fraudulent mail-order business.

Charged Nothing for Tickets. In the first instance, the young man admitted to the court that he had sent raffle tickets through the mails, but stated that he had charged nothing whatever for them and that they had been included in small packages containing jewelry and other articles. This charge was dismissed by the judge after hearing the defendant's story and evidence bearing it out.

However, on the second charge he was convicted, being assessed $50 by Judge Humphreys, the lightest possible fine. According to the evidence and story of the defendant in the second case, Hartzmann had advertised in a Chicago paper and a Springfield, Ill., man the prosecutor in the case, had answered, sending $1 "for information as to collecting and copying names and addresses."

Away With Naval Reserves. All might have gone along smoothly, but as it happened Hartzmann, who is a member of the naval reserves, was away from home at the time the letter arrived, and it, with following notices from the Springfield man, were supposed to lay unopened until his return from the annual trip on the great lakes.

A week after sending the letter with $1 enclosed, the Springfield man began to wonder, and becoming suspicious, wrote Hartzmann. He of course received no answer and again he sent a flying letter to the Moline young man, informing him in his third letter that he had turned the matter over to the postal authorities. When Hartzmann finally returned home and found his mail, the postal authorities had already worked up their case, which resulted in his conviction at Peoria.

COOK-SCHILLINGER.

A beautiful ceremony of this morning united in marriage Miss Agnes Ruth Schilling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Schilling, 2920 Thirteenth avenue, and Morris E. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cook, 1028 Fourteenth avenue. The service was performed at 10 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents by Rev. M. E. Chatley of the Memorial Christian church and was witnessed by a company of 60 relatives and close friends. The bridal couple was unattended. At the hour of the service Miss Grace Long, cousin of the bride, at the piano played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin as the bride and groom took their places for the service, and while the vows were said she played "Cupid's

Love," by Johann Rech. The service was performed beneath a bower formed of pink and white chrysanthemums, smilax and ferns. The pink and white blossoms were also used to trim the rooms of the home, large vases holding the beautiful flowers. The bride wore a lovely gown of pussy willow taffeta and chiffon made in colonial fashion with a flounced skirt and the bodice trimmed with silver lace. She carried a shower bouquet of white bridal roses. A course wedding breakfast was served, and at the bride's table were seated the bride and groom, the parents and grandparents of both, Mr. and Mrs. Christ Schilling and Mrs. Mary Cook being the latter. The table had as its centerpiece a bouquet of pink and white roses and ferns and smilax and radiating from it to the corners of the table were pink satin ribbons. The cloth was of Mexican drawn work which was brought from New Mexico and given by the bride's cousin, Frank Davenport, to his mother, Mr. and Mrs. Cook left at noon for a honeymoon trip to Chicago, the bride wearing a suit of blue chiffon broadcloth trimmed in velvet with a black velvet hat. They will be at home to their friends after Dec. 15 at 1009 Fourteenth-and-a-half street, where a home is already furnished and ready for them. Mr. Cook graduated from the local high school in the class of 1908 and is employed as a salesman at the Hickey Brothers cigar store in Rock Island. ### WILL BURN HOGS USED FOR MAKING OF VIRUS

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 2.—Bodies of hogs which have been used for making hog cholera virus at the state biological laboratory here will be burned hereafter. It was announced today by Dr. O. E. Dyson, state veterinarian.

Dr. Dyson was indicted Saturday by the Sangamon county grand jury for failing to burn or bury the bodies of the diseased hogs. For some time he had been shipping them to a rendering plant in Peoria.
